Job Summary
As a registered nurse in a school setting, you will be required to promote disease prevention, health, and well-being among the student population you serve. As part of these responsibilities, you will be expected to keep records of students’ immunizations and relevant health histories. Your students will vary in age from grades K-12, depending on the school to which you will be assigned within the district.

In addition to basic first aid, you will need to meet the unique healthcare needs of students within your school. These needs may be related to any number of chronic health conditions such as food allergies, asthma, or diabetes. Any care provided to students will need to be consistent with their individual education plans (IEPs), individual healthcare plans (IHPs) and/or 504 plans when applicable.

Depending on students’ unique health conditions, you may be required to provide a wide range of care that could include respiratory treatments, or maintenance of equipment such as catheters, gastric tubes, tracheostomies, or ventilators. You will also be required to manage the administration of medication, both for routine and emergency purposes. School nurses are required to ensure necessary paperwork and authorization is in place to store and administer students’ medication.

We are looking for a versatile RN who is willing to collaborate with a diverse group of students, educators, and administrators. Our ideal applicant is compassionate, steady under pressure, and capable of meeting the various healthcare needs of medically fragile students.
